Disabled Living would welcome new Trustees to join the Management Board, to support the development of new and existing services. Although a charity, we work to a business model and the Chairman would be delighted to hear from any individual who would be willing to offer their knowledge, expertise or lived experience to ensure Disabled Living remains relevant and progressive for the people we support.

President's Message

In April 2021, we were still deeply immersed in the Covid pandemic, although there was a very welcome bit of light appearing at the end of an extremely long tunnel; as the vaccination programme was being rolled out.

We couldn't socialise indoors unless we were lucky enough to be in a support bubble. Even outdoors, we were limited to a group of six. We were still working from home and international travel was actually illegal!

Fast forward to March 2022 and things were looking much more encouraging. Most people had already had two jabs, the Spring Booster was being offered to people my age, and normality was beckoning! Previously, the Kidz to Adultz exhibitions had been moved from a virtual setting, and in November 2021 we actually managed to hold Kidz to Adultz North at the Exhibition Centre, Liverpool, amongst many Covid-safe measures.

We have managed to continue providing most of our services, despite all the restrictions. In fact, strangely Covid has given us a lot of positives too. Some of our training has been adapted, so that it can be delivered remotely. Covid also pushed us to re-energise our idea of the development of a Remote Assessment programme, and work to make it a reality. It is really coming on apace. We are working with a number of partners and with the support of grant funding, our aim being to create a tool which can be rolled out and potentially used across NHS services.

Most important of all, is that Covid has brought our team even closer together to work flexibly to overcome challenges.

The Board has also benefitted from investment in Covid-inspired video conferencing equipment, in that the Trustees can now join meetings in person or remotely, so we can access the best talents from across the UK because geography is no longer a problem!

Like most organisations, Covid has placed severe financial strain on Disabled Living, but thankfully we have received an incredibly generous donation of over £200,000 from the estate of Mrs Kathleen Evans. I would like to take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all of those wonderful people who have remembered us in their wills, and who live on in our work. Our thanks also to our other donors, volunteers, supporters, friends and partners.

My personal thanks go to Debra and her entire team for their hard work and dedication. as well as to my fellow Board members for their time, expertise, skill and goodwill.

Chairperson's Message

Disabled Living has shown great resilience during two of the toughest years the world has experienced in our lifetimes, with staff working within Covid-19 guidelines and sustaining crucial service delivery to some of the most vulnerable people in our society. There are over £14m disabled people in the UK and one in five of us will be affected by disability at some point in their lives.

I am extremely proud of the many achievements that this report references, across each of our different services, and wish to express my sincere thanks to Debra and all the staff for their commitment and dedication in often difficult circumstances.

The economic outlook for our country is uncertain. Cost pressures have been apparent since the end of lockdown restrictions largely due to the disruption of global supply chains, and recently exacerbated by a sharp increase in energy costs and the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

As other reports have highlighted, the effects of the pandemic have continued to impact income generation, and the very substantial legacy of which we were advised was extremely generous and very much appreciated. It has helped to build our reserves so that we are well placed to face increasing cost pressures, including recognising and rewarding staff.

The cost-of-living crisis places additional stress on disabled people, their families and carers, and public sector spending cuts appear inevitable to fund recently announced tax cuts and contribution to energy bills, so that our service users will need our support more than ever.

I would like to thank our Treasurer Ged Cosgrove and his team at Champion Accountants for assistance in producing detailed monthly financial information for our Board, in the absence on maternity leave of our Finance Manager, Danielle. Thanks also to our auditors Beever and Struthers for their guidance and professional expertise.

Finally, thanks go to my fellow Trustees who give up much of their time and provide invaluable assistance to Debra and the staff team. We are however always on the lookout for new Board members who can add value and strengthen the governance of Disabled Living to build our resilience in the face of future challenges and assist in developing new opportunities.

Chief Executive's Report

Throughout the year, the pandemic continued to impact on service delivery and income generation. Although, by April 2021 the number of people contracting Covid had decreased significantly and, on the whole, people were not as unwell as at the height of the pandemic, this disease continued to have a significant effect on the charity.

Staffing was a major issue to the disruption of services, as the availability of employees changed by the day, or in some cases the hour. From staff being unwell themselves, to looking after dependents or self-isolating. I know these challenges were not isolated to Disabled Living, however, what I did not envisage was how long these challenges would continue from the onset of the pandemic, over two years ago.

In order to minimise risk to the team, and ensure income streams would continue where possible, the staff continued to work primarily from Redbank House where multiple rooms are available. Staff, whose regular place of work was Burrows House, returned there after 19 months in December 2021. On their return, the office environment was very different, as the Salford NHS teams, with who we share office space, were still working remotely. Staff from Burrows House would work on a Rota system at Redbank House to ensure we always had the appropriate number of staff from a health and safety perspective to operate safely and efficiently, ensuring minimal disruption to this service.

The delivery of many of Disabled Living's services is determined directly by events and challenges within the health and social care sector. The impact can present in many forms, from being inundated with enquiries because there are long waiting lists for appointments with healthcare professionals to not being able to deliver training as statutory sector staff are not available.

The picture I am painting is no different for many sectors. However, I am very thankful, I have a team of people who are flexible, innovative and will do what it takes to ensure we can deliver as many services as possible.

This year many of our team have had their own personal challenges, some brought on by the wider impact of Covid. Although we have policies and procedures in place, personal circumstances are very different. I feel very proud of the individual adjustments, the management team and I have been able to make to support our staff when they needed it the most.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many volunteers who help the charity throughout the year. We have a committed Management Board of Trustees who volunteer their time to support the managers and I by imparting their knowledge and experience to improve the services we offer.

Debra Evans
Chief Executive

Equipz

Providing advice and information about equipment is at the heart of Disabled Living's charitable objectives.

The Disabled Living helpline continues to be in demand, especially as NHS waiting lists for occupational therapy services continue to rise. The average waiting time nationally can be between four and nine months. As a result, the team are always considering any opportunity to impart their knowledge, offer advice or signpost individuals, family members, or healthcare professionals in the most appropriate direction. Enquiries are diverse and range from information about equipment provision such as telecare, mobility, toilets, beds, seating, to driving, home adaptations, accessible holiday accommodation and much more.

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of calls from people who desperately need equipment, but do not have the personal funds to purchase. The team pride themselves on ensuring their knowledge is constantly expanding on grant making opportunities available.

Disabled Living continues to offer Access Audits. Over the last year, the team were commissioned by Lovat Parks, an award-winning holiday park company, with sites throughout the UK, to undertake audits in eleven recently acquired parks. The primary aim was to ensure the companies refurbishment and development plans considered every possible opportunity to make their parks as user friendly as possible to their customers who could have a wide range of both visible, and hidden disabilities.

We were delighted to be awarded a grant of £49,016 from SBRI (Small Business Research Initiative) -Healthy Ageing Social Ventures. This is a government funded programme which aims to bring new technologies to the NHS. This funding is for a feasibility study for the Real Time Assessment Tool. The proposal was subject of a rigorous assessment process by a panel of people with backgrounds from the NHS, social enterprise, and the commercial sector. The proposal scored very high with a score of 81%. The nine-month project commenced on 1st March 2022 and our partners are Interneuron CIC and Make it Happen.

Internal training is vital to the development of our team and providing a quality service. All the staff answering helpline queries can receive calls which can sometimes be considered challenging, upsetting and whilst rare, safeguarding and welfare issues can arise. Several members of staff throughout the wider Disabled Living services had raised their concerns and identified suicide awareness training was required to support them in their roles. By commissioning training, we would ensure, as part on ongoing governance, systems are in place, where we are accountable for continuously improving the quality of our services and safeguarding high standards of care, by creating an environment in which excellence in clinical care will flourish. Therefore, training was commissioned in partnership with another charity from The Samaritans, which was rated as excellent.

Training

Disabled Living is recognised nationally from their accredited training programmes.

The majority of Disabled Living's training courses are delivered to NHS and local authority employees. The challenges of Covid caused the postponement of several courses throughout the year and the reluctance of managers to book bespoke training. Even by the end of March 2022, the disruption within the statutory sector continued to take its toll, resulting in many organisations deferring course bookings until September 2022 at the earliest.

However, the staff continued to be extremely busy, as some services took full advantage of the availability of our training team and offered their employees multiple training opportunities. The contract with Manchester City Council to deliver training at Redbank House has continued throughout the pandemic.

The majority of courses delivered by the Disabled Living team tend to be within the North West of England. However, there continues to be a noticeable increase in enquiries throughout the UK. As a result, we have now increased the number of associate trainers we have available and are constantly looking to recruit more. This recruitment drive will ensure we are able to cope with the demand as statutory sector services get back to normal and training requirements increase.

Trusted Assessor is one of our most popular training programmes, within the Disabled Living portfolio. For delegates who achieve the competency levels from these courses, they are then able to assess and prescribe low level equipment, providing the opportunity to reduce waiting lists and support clients to be independent in their own homes.

To ensure the content is current, the core training team have redeveloped this successful course into Levels 2 and 3, with the edition of a new Level 4, giving delegates choice in the incremental approach to their development depending on their role.

The Moving and Handling Trainers and Assessors course has been delivered to capacity levels in our purpose-built training rooms where delegates are able to put theory into practice in an accessible and inclusive environment.

Bladder & Bowel UK

Bladder & Bowel UK (BBUK) is the only charitable service supporting adults and children with bladder and bowel problems and the professionals who work with them.

Bladder & Bowel UK continued to deliver services through the ongoing pandemic, with a continued high demand on the helpline and enquiry services. Work and projects undertaken by the team have continued and thrived through these challenging times, as has the ongoing secondment to the NHS continuing to deliver clinical services.

Due to the high demand for Bladder & Bowel UK's helpline services we have increased capacity by recruiting a number of clinicians who work remotely on a sessional basis to ensure we can continue to provide timely interventions when people are finding themselves on long NHS waiting lists.

Although Covid restrictions were lifted for many areas in early 2021, there was a reluctance to open many public toilets, which had a significant impact on people with bladder and/or bowel issues. Throughout the year, the requests for Bladder & Bowel UK's 'Just Can't Wait card' was phenomenal, averaging 540 per month. This small card, which can be presented in shops and other facilities, may enable people to access toilet facilities which are not generally available to the public.

The team were delighted to enter a partnership in January with five legal firms to form the Bladder & Bowel UK legal panel. The formation of the panel was prompted due to the increasing number of calls which were being received via the helpline from people who potentially were victims of clinical negligence. To ensure our team were signposting clients to the best possible legal advice, we initially sought expressions of interest from law firms with which Disabled Living had existing relationships. The Bladder & Bowel UK legal panel partners comprise, CL Medilaw, FBC Manby Bowdler LLP, Slater & Gordon, Irwin Mitchell, and Clarke Willmott LLP.

The team have been involved in two high profile media campaigns this year to raise awareness of bladder and bowel problems, by providing their clinical expertise.

A Bedwetting campaign with Keith Duffy from Boyzone in September: supported by Ferring Pharmaceuticals, provided the opportunity for discussion around this taboo topic on the Jeremy Vine BBC Radio Two lunchtime show. The campaign gathered momentum and was covered by 22 radio stations and 8 TV news programmes, with an estimated reach of over 6 million people.

Bladder & Bowel UK

Dr Emily MacDonagh, the wife of Peter Andre spearheaded a campaign to raise awareness of continence issues in adults. The campaign supported by Tena included a series of webinars, media publications and social media awareness. There was also an opportunity to highlight the effects Covid had on individuals with bladder and bowel issues when they were not able to access their local clinical NHS services. An interview with BBC Jersey Radio, which was later shared across other BBC radio channels provided the opportunity to raise awareness of the Bladder & Bowel UK helpline.

In March 2022, Bladder & Bowel UK were the first organisation since the onset of Covid to deliver a face-to-face event for healthcare professionals working in the field of bladder and bowel health.

The Bladder & Bowel UK Symposium held at the Bolton Arena in Greater Manchester was an overwhelming success with 40 exhibitors and 160 delegates. The Symposium provided an opportunity to launch two new awards: The Bladder & Bowel UK Product Innovation Award, which will showcase innovation in the design of recently launched continence products, and the Bladder & Bowel UK Clinical Excellence Award, which will highlight best practice in service development.

The team continue to work with a wide range of companies to impart their knowledge and expertise in the development of products and services. One project which has been ongoing for several years, is the development of physiology and biofeedback equipment for NHS clinicians. This is specialised equipment, and the team feel privileged to have been involved in this project from concept to commercialisation.

Kidz to Adultz Exhibitions

The Kidz to Adultz Exhibitions are collectively the largest FREE UK events totally dedicated to children and young adults up to 25 years with disabilities and additional needs, their parents, carers and the professionals who support them.

The biggest incentive for the Kidz to Adultz team at Disabled Living is the reward of knowing, our Kidz to Adultz events continue to support children and young people, many with very complex and challenging disabilities and additional needs, to lead more independent lives and achieve their aspirations.

Following two very difficult years of Covid restrictions, the team were delighted to hold their first live, face to face event, Kidz to Adultz North on 17th November 2021. After being held in Manchester for the past 20+ years, and due to the closure of EventCity, this event was relocated to the Exhibition Centre Liverpool, a purpose built and fully accessible venue, located in the heart of Liverpool.

Visitor and exhibitor feedback was overwhelmingly positive, despite visitors' numbers being lower than anticipated. This was impacted by several factors. The Kidz to Adultz Exhibition unfortunately, and unavoidably, clashed with another adult disability event due to the shortage of venue availability and the rescheduling of events which were cancelled during the pandemic. Several visitors who would attend our events pre-covid were still vulnerable and had concerns about attending face to face events and many healthcare professionals who had registered to attend in advance had to cancel due to staff shortages in their services. In addition, the horrendous terrorist incident which occurred a short distance from the exhibition centre, outside Liverpool Women's Hospital on Sunday 14th November, unnerved people and they did not feel confident to travel into the centre of Liverpool, despite additional security measures being introduced. However, all said, it was a great feeling to be back!

Kidz to Adultz Middle was held on Thursday 17th March 2022 at Coventry Building Society Arena (previously the Ricoh Arena). Historically our Midlands event has been well attended, due to its central location within a two-hour drive for 75% of the population. The arena is located next to a railway station making our Kidz to Adultz Middle exhibition extremely accessible for thousands of health and social care professionals, parents, carers, and all those who care for and support children and young adults with disabilities and/or additional needs.

As Covid restrictions eased, it was very clear confidence to attend live events was growing, and this exhibition had such a vibe of 'getting back to normal'. The event was a hive of activity and we welcomed a large number of visitors throughout the day - parents, carers, and a notable number of professionals. The team were delighted to report, despite the many challenges, they did exceed budget for this event.

Many delegates were able to update their knowledge and boost their CPD by attending one or more of the free seminars running alongside each exhibition. The seminars were delivered by expert speakers and covered a wide range of topics including, 'Education and Health Care Plans', 'Challenging Behaviours, Sensory Processing and Sleep Disorders', 'Learning to Drive' and 'Night-time Positioning for Children with Complex Disabilities'.

The team feel confident the Kidz to Adultz Exhibitions will keep growing in popularity. They have exciting plans for the year ahead and would be delighted to welcome you to the largest exhibitions in the UK totally dedicated to supporting disabled children and those with additional needs.

Redbank House

Redbank House is now well established as a training and meeting venue. Its close proximity to Manchester City Centre provides excellent accommodation for companies and organisations bringing people together from all over the UK.

Redbank House has been a hive of activity throughout the pandemic, as a base for the Disabled Living team, to provide day services for adults with learning disabilities through our tenancy with The Shaw Centre and our long-term contract with In-Health Intelligence providing diabetic eye screening services for the residents of North Manchester.

The Redbank House training rooms have been in regular use by staff from Manchester City Council as the Disabled Living team facilitate training for their health and social care employees.

As trends have changed in the way training is delivered in general, since the onset of Covid, many of our regular pre-covid clients have adapted their training courses to be delivered remotely, via platforms such as Zoom and Teams. In addition, several clients who hired Redbank House facilities to hold face to face meetings have also resorted to virtual meetings. As Redbank House has multiple rooms for hire, this change in direction has impacted significantly on income streams.

The number of regular clients who have returned to the sensory rooms since the pandemic remains quite low. This is due to varying circumstances – clients themselves are vulnerable and shielding, our client is unable to attend as another resident in their supported housing is vulnerable, or there are insufficient staff to accompany the client. In addition, and very sadly, we have had clients who have passed away this year, very unexpectedly

The Redbank House sensory rooms continue to attract large numbers of children with disabilities and additional needs together with their siblings, in the school holidays, primarily through the local offer contract we have with Manchester City Council. The feedback from parents is so positive, as the experience enables the child to be themselves, in a safe environment, without judgement. For our Redbank House team, they have got to know the families, they see excited children return with smiling faces and they know Disabled Living are providing a valuable service.

Overview of Marketing Direction

The marketing team continued to support each service to educate its audience, promote its services and generate income through business activities. In addition, some activities were reviewed to make sure all operations supported organisational objectives as effectively as possible.

For example, the way in which Disabled Living's promotional placements are leveraged has evolved, with a greater emphasis placed on first understanding what a potential advertising partner's needs are, and then creating a package based on these needs. This approach has been most evident with Bladder & Bowel UK but is being utilised across all services. This has had several effects, including: building on existing relationships with corporate partners to position Disabled Living as a receptive and innovative partner; revealing new areas of unexploited opportunity; enabling responsive pricing to better fit the pricing to the client and their needs.

A rebrand process was begun in order to maintain and improve Disabled Living's competitive potential in service delivery, strategic influence and income generation. Bladder & Bowel UK was identified as most appropriate service to start with. Pro bono services were secured from Dawn Creative, an impressive local creative agency. A website redesign is being carried out in-house. The process will then be rolled out across other services to bring the look and feel of each service up to date and to enhance the marketing performance across the organisation.

Bladder & Bowel UK rebrand process

To date:

- Initial workshops to find appropriate brand architecture
- Identifying the brand mission, purpose, values, and USPs
- Presentation and feedback on the brand core
- Sign off of the brand core
- Workshops on the new brand identity
- Presentation and feedback of the new brand identity

Upcoming:

- Signing off of the new brand identity
- Brand roll out

Website Performance

Website performance has improved dramatically across Disabled Living’s services, reflecting changes in content marketing, signposting and traffic generation. These changes are indications of the planned future direction of the service’s digital platforms.

Year Ahead

Despite the challenges the pandemic has brought over the last two years, I do think there will continue to be a turbulent time ahead in the coming year, not only in relation to Covid, but the economic situation will no doubt have an impact on income generation for some services. However, I am completely optimistic Disabled Living will be in a significantly stronger position financially, with further developed services towards the end of the next financial year.

Our priorities for 2022/23

- To continue to increase income throughout the organisation to reduce the reliance on income from the Kidz to Adultz exhibitions.
- To forge partnerships which will raise our charity profile, enhance our service offering and generate income.
- To recruit additional clinicians who can work on a sessional basis to meet the demands of our services.
- To explore funding options to develop phase two of the remote assessment tool.
- To start on the journey to re-brand our services, to make them more current and appealing to potential stakeholders.
- To develop a strategic plan for the next three years.
- To invest in training to support the team in their continuing professional development.

Treasurer's Message

I have pleasure in presenting my first report as Treasurer and am delighted to say that the financial situation is very much back on track after last year's financial performance which was of course very much affected by the Pandemic.

Overall total Income and Endowments were £1,254k compared to £586k in 2021 and back in line with the 2020 figure of £1,267k. Total expenditure £1,049k resulting in a surplus of £205k for the year compared to a deficit of £230k in 2021.

Income was boosted by a large legacy included in total legacy receipts of £313k and although income from commercial trading operations had risen year on year by £425k to £590k it is still well below pre pandemic levels of £806k. The reasons for this are a slow return to working practices after the pandemic and indeed changes in working practices generally.

Expenditure has remained under control and although it has increased from 2021 it is below the total expenditure in 2020.

The Management Team understand the Charity's finances and continue to prepare budgets and forecasts on a conservative and accurate basis. Income for the year was £1,254 compared to a budget of £1,096, overheads were £440k compared to a budget of £431k and salaries were £609k compared to a budget of £634K. The surplus for the year was £175k over budget.

The Balance Sheet of the Charity remain strong with cash reserves close to £500k.
